Purpose:

It is the ability to find even a small difference in images. Discriminating between the visuals is much essential in every other place for a kid. For ex. Many kids may have difficulty in distinguishing “b” and “p” in the same way between “9” and “6” and many more. Developing this skill in earlier days may help them in the future. Have a good time with your kid by doing such an activity.

How to use:

- Take two sets of printout.
- Cut down the second set of printout into individual images.
- Ask the kid to match the pieces with the first set.
